Inithar, Ann-Maree (Paterson/nee Carter)

Ex LSWTR. Joined the navy in February 1986. During her 15 years service, she served at Cerberus (twice), Kuttabul (Zetland) and Waterhen. Discharged in February 2001.

Intihar, Wesley (Wes)

CPOWTR. I joined the Navy from Geelong on 20/9/983 at the age of 17. After completing my Recruit training, I commenced my Initial Writers course in January, 1984, with POWTR Steve Salmon as my instructor. On completion of my course, I did a short stint in the Removals Office at Cerberus, prior to posting to Chief of Navy Material at Navy Office, under POWTR Morgan Dunbar. As one would expect, playing Aussie Rules for the 'Harman Hogs' was mandatory. At the beginning of 1986, I was posted to NOPO and initially worked in the Accounts Office with POWTR Morrie Johnston and LSWTR Robert 'Bomber' Browne. From there, I was moved to the Campbell Park pay section and worked from Harman with POWTR Trev Sweeney and LSWTR Al Dummett.

I joined Darwin in December, 1986, to commence my first sea draft under CPOWTR J.J. 'Bomber' Atkinson and later CPOWTR Geoff Locke. My Leading Writers during my time onboard were Pete Liversley and Andy Beales, with my partner in crime, ABWTR Gavin Calderwood. On promotion to LSWTR in July, 1988, I remained in Darwin for a further three months before joining the MHQ Registry. I remained there for five months prior to joining Parramatta (DE46) in March, 1989, under CPOWTR Mark Bartolo. It is still my favourite posting, with the ship spending 15 out of 20 months 'Up Top.' I had the privilege of decommissioning Parramatta in January, 1991, and remained on board as the Senior Writer for a further three months as part of the unfortunately named 'Retard Party'. (I still suffer to this day, in being in this poorly named group.)

In April, 1991, I joined Waterhen, working for CPOWTR Liz Budek and later CPOWTR Ron Giveen, as well as POWTR Derek Pratt. I also met my wife, ABWTR

Ann-Maree Paterson (nee Carter) during this period. On promotion to POWTR in August, 1993, I was posted to Watson, working in the Tactical Training Building and then later, in the Accounts Office. October, 1994, saw me posted back to Cerberus as a Recruit School instructor. After completing three years at Recruit School, I was moved to the Personnel Office and worked with WOWTRs Leigh Doak and Geoff Kenley.

January, 2000, arrived, along with a posting to Warramunga as the commissioning COSEC. I also had the good fortune of having LSWTR Marc Henderson and ABWTR Andy Maskell as my Writer staff. On July, 2002, I returned to Cerberus as a category school instructor at the Supply School, teaching Initial Writers the finer art of being Writers. It was during my time at the School that I completed 20 years in the RAN, and Steve Salmon was still on hand to tell me to get my hands out of my pockets. On promotion to CPOWTR, I took up the position of Staff Officer Personnel at Cerberus in January, 2004. Then, in November, 2004, I was posted to Anzac prior to her commencing Operation Northern Trident 05, which saw the ship travel to the Mediterranean, Gallipoli for the 90th anniversary, Europe and South Africa. In July, 2006, I returned to Supply School as the Course Implementation Officer at Writer Training, where I am still serving as at 2007.
